Web.com Invites Raleigh Area Small Businesses to Its Small Business Summit Marketing Seminar

Small Business Summit to be Held in Conjunction With the Rex Hospital Open -- a Web.com Tour Event

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 22, 2015 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Web.com (Nasdaq:WWW), a leading provider of Internet services and online marketing solutions for small businesses, will host a free Small Business Summit designed to help small business owners in the greater Raleigh, N.C., area learn how to successfully increase their business' visibility and better market themselves online. The Web.com Small Business Summit will take place on Friday, May 29, 2015, from 9:00 a.m. - 12:00 p.m. at the North Ridge Country Club, in Raleigh. Through Web.com's agreement with the PGA TOUR and as umbrella sponsor of the Web.com Tour, Web.com developed the Small Business Summit as a benefit to small business owners in communities across the country.

"Through the hard work and dedication of our local entrepreneurs and small businesses, the greater Raleigh area continues to flourish and build our economic success story," said Brian Krusoe, tournament director for the Rex Hospital Open. "Small business owners have many competing demands on their time, foremost of which is running a business, and they don't always have the knowledge to successfully market their businesses online. With the help of our partner Web.com, we are pleased to help local small business owners continue to prosper and grow while also having the chance to enjoy the Rex Hospital Open experience."

Joann Del Toro, vice president at Web.com, will lead the discussion at the Web.com Small Business Summit on how small businesses can increase their online visibility and optimize their online marketing efforts. Additionally, a speaker from Bank of America will share information and tools that small business owners can use to improve their cash flow and maximize their risk profile.

Topics and content at the Small Business Summit focus on ways small business owners can achieve a successful Internet presence, including the elements of a great website, how to determine if their website is working for them, increasing traffic to their website and business, mobile marketing, and decoding how to efficiently market their business on Google, Facebook and Twitter.

"As part of our commitment to give back to the communities we serve, we are pleased to offer this event which is focused on helping small business owners improve their business model," said Del Toro. "Every day, Web.com helps millions of business owners address the challenges of building and maintaining an effective online presence that allows their businesses to grow. We expect a lively dialogue covering a range of key, timely topics that small business owners face when tackling this increasingly important digital opportunity."

About the Web.com Tour

Founded (1990), owned and operated by the PGA TOUR, the Web.com Tour continues to identify those players who are ready to compete and win on golf's biggest stage. In 2013, the Web.com Tour became The Path to the PGA TOUR, with all 50 available PGA TOUR cards coming through the Web.com Tour and the season culminating at the four-event Web.com Tour Finals. Web.com became the Tour's umbrella sponsor on June 27, 2012. A 10-year agreement (through 2021) is in place. The Tour completed its 25th year of competition in 2014. Three out of four PGA TOUR members are Web.com Tour alumni. Tour alumni have won 404 PGA TOUR titles, including 19 majors, five PLAYERS Championships and four FedExCups. The PGA TOUR, through the efforts of its tours and their tournaments, sponsors, players and volunteers, surpassed $2 billion in charitable giving in Jan. 2014.
