Web.com Invites Small Businesses in the Greater Reno, NV Area to Its Small Business Summit Marketing Seminar

The Web.com Small Business Summit to be Held in Conjunction With the PGA TOUR Barracuda Championship

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 31, 2015 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Web.com (Nasdaq:WWW), a leading provider of Internet services and online marketing solutions for small businesses, will host a free Web.com Small Business Summit designed to help small business owners in the greater Reno, NV area learn how to successfully increase their business' visibility and better market themselves online. The Web.com Small Business Summit will take place on Friday, August 7, 2015, from 9:00 a.m. - 12:00 p.m. at the Montreux Golf and Country Club in Reno, NV. Through Web.com's agreement with the PGA TOUR and as umbrella sponsor of the Web.com Tour, Web.com developed the Small Business Summit as a benefit to small business owners in communities across the country.

"Entrepreneurs and small businesses continue to help the greater Reno area grow its job base and strengthen its overall economy," said Chris Hoff, tournament director for the Barracuda Championship. "Small business owners have many competing demands on their time, foremost of which is running a business, and they don't always have the knowledge to successfully market their business online. So with the help of our PGA TOUR partner, Web.com, we are pleased to help local small business owners continue to prosper and grow while also having the chance to enjoy the Barracuda Championship experience."

Justin Leedy, director of Marketing at Web.com, will lead the discussion at the Web.com Small Business Summit on how small businesses can increase their online visibility and optimize their online marketing efforts. Danny Milrad, Product Marketing Director at Barracuda Networks will share best practices for securing and protecting applications and data while simplifying IT for small businesses.

Topics and content at the Web.com Small Business Summit focus on ways small business owners can achieve a successful Internet presence, including the elements of a great website, how to determine if their website is working for them, increasing traffic to their website and business, mobile marketing, and decoding how to efficiently market their business on Google, Facebook and Twitter.

"As part of our commitment to give back to the communities we serve, we are pleased to offer this event which is focused on helping small business owners improve their business model," said Leedy. "Every day, Web.com helps millions of business owners address the challenges of building and maintaining an effective online presence that allows their businesses to grow. We expect a lively dialogue covering a range of key, timely topics that small business owners face when tackling this increasingly important digital opportunity."

"It's an exciting time in Reno-Tahoe with the second annual Barracuda Championship and the corresponding activities all week," said Milrad. "The Web.com Small Business Summit is great addition to the line-up, offering customers an opportunity to learn more about better running their businesses and keeping their data safe online, all while participating in an impressive PGA TOUR event."
