Web.com to Host Small Business Summit to Help Greater Boston Area Small Businesses Strengthen Their Online Marketing

Free Web Marketing Seminar to be Held During the Deutsche Bank Championship

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 28, 2015 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Web.com (Nasdaq:WWW), a leading provider of Internet services and online marketing solutions for small businesses, will host a free Web.com Small Business Summit designed to help small business owners in the greater Boston area learn how to successfully increase their business' visibility and better market themselves online. The Web.com Small Business Summit will take place on Wednesday, September 2, 2015 at TPC Boston in Norton, Massachusetts. Through Web.com's agreement with the PGA TOUR and as umbrella sponsor of the Web.com Tour, Web.com developed the Small Business Summit as a benefit to small business owners in communities across the country.

"Entrepreneurs and small businesses continue to lead the Greater Boston area in job growth and economic success and this event will offer these upcoming leaders an opportunity to build on their successes," said Mike Antolini, tournament director for the Deutsche Bank Championship. "To stay competitive in today's marketplace, it is important for small business owners to build an online presence and learn the ins and outs of what it takes to be successful online. With the help of our corporate partner, Web.com, we are pleased to help local small business owners continue to prosper and grow while also having the chance to enjoy the Deutsche Bank Championship experience."

Justin Leedy, director of marketing at Web.com, will lead the discussion at the Web.com Small Business Summit, and will share information and tools that small business owners can use to improve their business performance; increase their online visibility; and optimize their online marketing efforts.

Topics and content at the Web.com Small Business Summit focus on ways small business owners can achieve a successful Internet presence, including the elements of a great website, how to determine if their website is working for them, increasing traffic to their website and business, mobile marketing and decoding how to efficiently market their business on Google, Facebook and Twitter.

"As part of our commitment to give back to the communities we serve, we are pleased to offer this event which is focused on helping small business owners improve their business model," said Leedy. "Every day, Web.com helps millions of business owners address the challenges of building and maintaining an effective online presence that allows their businesses to grow. We expect a lively dialogue covering a range of key, timely topics that small business owners face when tackling this increasingly important digital opportunity."
